Dr. Howard A. Kelly Agrees to Government Plan.

MR. LANE ANNOUNCES IT.

Secretary Of Interior Makes Strong Plea For Withdrawal Of Ore Lands — Outlines Plans.

Washington, D. C .- Dr. Howard A Kelly, of Baltimore, the cancer exper and eminent surgeon, found an ardent defender in Secretary of Interior Franklin K. Lane, who appeared before the House Committee on Mines and Mining to urge legislation to break up the "radium monopoly," so that as much of the precious metal as possible may be distributed in trust worthy hands for the warfare or

"I do not see," said Secretary Lane to the committee, "why Dr. Kelly, of Baltimore, and Dr. Douglass, of New York, should be subjected to so much criticism regarding their efforts to get more radium for medical use in this country. They are two distinguished and high-minded men. They are working for the sole purpose of getting a sufficient supply of radium for the benefit of mankind. Dr. Kelly is known to you. Dr. Douglass is a millionaire and a distinguished chemist. He is the former president of the El Paso and Southern Railroad."

Will Turn Over Plant.

Congressman Taylor, of Colorado, who is combating the Lane proposition for the withdrawal from public entry of radium-ore lands, said he wished it understood that he had never criticised Dr. Kelly and Dr. Douglass.

Secretary Lane, in the course of his argument, told of the offer of Dr. Kelly and Dr. Douglass to turn over to the Government the plant they are constructing at Denver for the extraction of radium from ore. Continuing, he of radium from ore. Continuing, as said:

"This plant will be completed in February. It cost about $150,000. Dr. Kelly and Dr. Douglass will turn the plant over to us so that we can use it to experiment with our process for the extraction of radium from carnotite over We have a process which we beore. We have a process which we be-tieve will work. We will use Dr. Kelly's plant in which to make our ex-periments, and it will be done with Dr. Kelly's and Dr. Douglass' money.

"Dr. Kelly and Dr. Douglass have a contract with the Crucible Steel Company to furnish them the radium-bearing ore upon which we will try our extracting process. We will use their ore also, and have agreed to give them the first seven grams of radium and the rest shall be ours."

"What do you propose to do with this radium after it falls into the Gov-ernment's hands?" Secretary Lane was

"My idea," he replied, "is to turn some of the radium over to the Gov-ernment hospitals and place the re-mainder in depots in different parts of the country, so that it can be reached for relieving the poor.'

MANIFESTS PRIDE IN ARMY.

Estimates It At More Than 100,000. Appears To Ignore Growing Financial and Other Troubles.

Mexico City.—President Huerta be-trays no sign of yielding, although he is cognizant of the increase in the strength of his enemies intriguing strength of his enemies intriguing within the capital and those in the field, is handicapped by inability to procure money and is confronted with Washington's determination that he must retire from Mexico's affairs.

Personal and political friends and the highest officials of the Catholic Church in Mexico, who have been en-deavoring by methods for the most part discreetly indirect to bring about his elimination, are seemingly convinced that they have failed.

General Huerta talks optimistically of the outlook, displays pride in the size of his army, which he estimates at considerably more than 100,000, and appears to believe that in spite of all obstacles and reverses he will be able to dominate the situation within three nonths.

It is conceded here that ex-Minister Flores Magon has failed in his mission to Mr. Lind at Vera Cruz and that the United States will listen to no proposiion short of the unconditional elimina-ion of Huerta.

No one, not even President Huerta, attempts to disguise the fact that the Mexican treasury is practically empty. In the capital the Government payrolls are being liquidated with reasonable promptness, but it is no secret that the diplomatic representatives and consuls abroad in many cases have not been paid for weeks and that the troops out-side the capital often receive their pay long after it is due. In most cases these funds are derived from local sources; sometimes they are from forced loans levied on the inhabitants where the troops happen to be sta-

Success Of the Haitien Movement Regarded As a Direct Challenge To the Administration's Disapproval Of Such Methods.

Cape Haitien, Haiti.-A general rewolt has broken out in the city of Gonaives, capital of the Department of Artibite. The leader of the insurrecon is Oreste Zamor, former governor of the department and at one time minister of war. The city is only 65 miles from Port au Prince, the capital of the republic. General Desormes, at the head of the rebel forces, took Cape Haitien and Fort Liberte.

Washington.-The Haitien revolution, headed by Davilar Theodore, an exiled senator recently driven into Santo Domingo, has reached such proortions as to command the serious atention of the State Department. The access of a movement of this kind night be regarded as a direct challenge to the administration's policy of disapproval of the erection of governments  $by_{\ell}$  force and without reference to the forms of a constitution.

Secretary Bryan has already consulted with President Wilson, and with Boaz W. Long, chief of the Latin-American Bureau of the State Departnent, as to Haitien affairs.

News was received at the State Department from the American Legation at Port au Prince that at Cape Haitien, threatened by the rebels, the citizens have formed a committee of public safety, removed customs officials and Panama.—Col. George W. Goethals reiterated emphatically his declaration that he could not accept the post of commissioner of police at New York laced a commission in charge.

Christian Inhabitants of the East Ascribe its Origin to the Gar-den of Eden. THE GREAT HOME PAPER OF THE SOUTH

There exists a legend relative to the Christian inhabitants of the east that they believe the banana to be the tree of the source of good and evil, in the reorganization and accept a commission in the Egyptian military police. Speed and I, shivering in our ragged uniforms by the barrack stove, discussed the matter over a loaf of bread and a few sardines, until we fell asleep in our greasy chairs.

When I awoke in the black morning hours I knew that I should go. All the roaming instinct in me was roused. I, a nomad, had stayed too long in one in a bunch of the fruit of which the

GET RICH SCHEMES

IF we are to judge by the thousands of people who are being daily swin dled by the numerous get rich scheme that infest the country, the American people are becoming particularly easy. Almost every large city and town seem to be a fruitful field for the swindler' operations, and the poor dupes almost tumble over each other in their effort to get something for nothing or fabulous returns for a small outlay, which anyone of average intelligence ought to know was a swindle without being ap prised of the fact. Aside from this the press of the country is continually warn ing the people of the dangerous char acter of those swindling operations and publishing reports of the thousands who have learned by dear experience of the fraudulent nature of so many concerns is which they have intrusted their all. W would say it serves them right were i not for the fact that the victims in many cases are poor people who can ill afford to lose their daily earnings in this

WHY IS IT?

WHY is it, it is often asked, that people in small towns can find no better business that prying into othe people's business, and then exaggerat ing the truth in regard to the same People who pretend to be good citizens who attend church regularly, who, in the sight of their neighbors are gener ous and charitable, yet who, withou the slightest provocation, pick up som little mistake, or more often, at nothing will so scandalize one as to ruin his o her reputation for life. While they would not steal from them worldly good yet they rob him or her of what i more precious than gold-a good reputation. Why can't people practise the christianity that they preach and "do unto others as you would have them d

YE COUNTRY EDITOR

ONE of the hardest duties in the world is to fill the news columns of a local paper with interesting items when there is really no news to write. It is far more vexing and perplexing than a person who has never had any experience in newspaper wolk can wel imagine. The paper must come out or time, and the reading matter has to be supplied from some source. When the brain of the editor becomes weary. mind inactive and his faithful scisson dull, is it, do you imagine, any child's play for him to probe the gas-bags of his imagination and bring forth a column or more of original "wind" tha will both edify, delight and instruct his readers? Verily the life of a country editor is full of trials, troubles and perplexities and like the wicked, he is doomed to not live out half his days.

TRY A RAW ONION

Many a man, probably a few women try it, finds a raw onion highly improv-ing to his state of health when he is afflicted with a severe cold. A bacter iologist explains that there is no mystery about the onion cure. It is not like a charm which may prevail upon a wart to vanish, but is virtually a specific for the cure of colds, in that the oil in the onion kills the microbes of "cold." The mouth of nearly every healthy person contains a few di ploccocci pneumonae ti is explained, and a cold, which weak-ens resistance, may give the deadly diplococus his chance. It is, therefore, important to treat the cold germ as severely as he has treated you. He is fastidious and does not like onions. Dose him with raw onions and he dies As for the members of the family who object to onions—well, a man must not give up his hope of escape from the lurking di plococcus merely because his sisters, his cousins or his aunts adhore the penetrating perfume of raw onions.

Income Tax Blanks

Residents of Delaware who have net Del. incomes of over $3,000 will shortly be given an opportunity by the paternal Government to find out a blank which was issued last week by the Treasury Department, on which they must state the amount of their incomes and then &c., by pay a tax thereon. If the person mak- Summi ing the return be married and his wife tioneer. plus$1,000 or $4,000. The same provision sale of stock and farm implements by is made if the person making the return James Keegan, on the "Janvier farm, is a married woman whose husband lives with her, but only one deduction of $4,000 shall be made from the aggregate income of both husband and wife when living together, and in no Public sale of stock, farm implements, duct the additional $1,000.

NEW AUTO FUEL FOUND

oped fuel for all internal combustion engines will be good reading for auto owners. An Englishman, after much experimenting, has pronounced a fuel oil which is not only cheaper than gaso line but is practically odorless, is easie started and a more powerful propeller. About 80 per cent of it is kerosene, the remaining 20 per cent. being chemicals which form an emulsion for the kerosene. The combinations of the chemicals is the secret of the process.

Combustion of the oil is said to be s perfect that there is very little soot left in the cylinders, and it can be used with the same carburetor as gasoline.

It cannot yet be bought in the mar-kets, but an English company is building a plant that will produce 20,000,000 gallons a year.

of course if there is no mistake and the fuel proves to be what is claimed for it, the next step will be to bring it to America and place it on our markets, where it will find its biggest sale. better and less expensive auto fuel would be a boon to car owners.

Undoubtedly there will be an effort on the part of the gasoline people to "spike the wheel" of the proposed new enterprise, but the worst they can do i they do this, the greater power of the new fuel will make it cheaper. American manufacturers as well a

American car owners will watch with much interest the English experiment.

A Saving of $5.00 to $10.00 On Each P. & Q. Garment You Buy

THIS is the season, when so-called "bargain" sales in clothes are being held everywhere. This means one of two things — either the stores that advertise "bargain" sales have lost confidence in the quality of their goods and their ability to sell on their own merits, or else an unreasonable profit was tacked on to the clothes at the beginning of the season.

GARMENTS ARE BEING SHOWN IN BEWILDERING NUMBERS.

Woman Must Be Difficult to Please If She Can Not Find Just the Right Thing That Best Suits Her.

All sorts of tricks are resorted to in an effort to glorify the already glori-fied blouses of the present season. In looking over the hosts of alluring new blouses arrayed in Washington shops in bewildering numbers it would seem almost heyond the power of seem almost beyond the power of even the most prolific mind to conjure up another novelty. Yet each time we glance around we find more, prettler than the last.

Only recently the sash has been brought into service and played upon in many unique devices to offset and accentuate the charm of particular models. As high-waisted, bloused-over effects are in favor now, broad, swathed girdles and sashes are appearing in the new designs and many lovely colors are introduced as relief

Aside from the novelty of the blo design sketched for today, much of its attraction can be attributed to the wide Roman-striped girdle that is crushed loosely about the waist. As the blouse is a white one, it will be best to select one of the red-and-greenstriped ribbons on a cream-ground col-or, with perhaps finer stripes of green and yellow.

White crepe de chine makes the pretty blouse that is devoid of all trimming save for the round silver cord lacings in sleeves and across the The fronts are left open at the neck, but are drawn together at the waist, and a white net yoke, made with a corded shirring and narrow heading, fills in the opening. Small, firmly buttonholed eyelets are worked on either side of the blouse opening through which to run the lacing. It is knotted just above the girdle with ends hanging below. The two rounded tabs that show below the girdle are extensions of each blouse front.

The back and fronts are slightly gathered to a square, shallow shoulder yoke finished with corded seams. The seams are wide at the armholes and set in smoothly under a corded seam below the normal shoulder line. They are cut with a flaring-cuff exten-

MAINTAIN PURITY OF BREEDS

Dairy Type Is Spare and Angular With Soft, Pliable Hide and Covered With Soft, Smooth Hair.

(By J. H. FRANDEEN, Professor of Dairy Husbandry, University of Ne-braska.) A comparison of the beef and dairy types of animal is perhaps the most effective way of showing what are the distinct dairy characteristics. The beef is generally heavy and sluggish while the dairy animal is spare and angular and refined with a soft and pliable hide well covered with smooth, soft The head is lean and a little longer than that of the beef type. The body rather abruptly. The withers are sharp, with the spinal column prominent and the barrel long and ca-pacious, indicating good feeding capa-city. The ribs are sprung down and outward and wide spaced, the heart and loin girth large and the tail fine with a heavy switch. The form of the dairy cow is frequently spoken of as the "triple wedge" form. First, she shows increased depth of body toshows increased depth of body to-wards the rear when viewed from one side. Secondly, she widens gradually from the breast to the points of the hips. Thirdly, looking down on the back the form widens gradually down-ward like a wedge. The udder is well developed and even quartered; is ceft and plichle but not fishly when soft and pliable but not flabby when emptied. The milk veins are large and tortuous and enter the abdominal wall in two or more large milk veins. The dairy type can be found in many of the breeds but most characteristically in the distinct dairy breeds. By the dairy breeds are meant those that have become most noted for uniformly conforming to the true dairy type. They are the Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernseys and Ayrshires. Owing to the careful work of the breeders in maintaining the purity of the breeds and fixing their character istics, these breeds can, in most cases, be counted on to reproduce their dairy qualities and their ability to produce butter-fat in large quantities. It is largely for this reason that the dairy-man who desires success to follow his efforts should stick close to one of the dairy breeds.

The only record we have of this parable is in this gospel. This portion of Scripture is usually thought of as being a great teaching on prayer. It is that, and it is more than that. It is a great illustration of the sound principles of pedagogy employed by that wonderful Bible teacher, our Lord and

1. Teaching by example (v. 1). There was that in the prayer life of Jesus that was different than that of the formalistic religionists of his day, something that inspired the request, "Lord teach us to pray." His prayer life was different, it was effectual. Notice in teach us to pray." His prayer life was different, it was effectual. Notice, in passing, the respect of the disciples "when he had ceased." If there is one lesson the oncoming generation needs to learn it is that of reverence. His prayers were too sacred to permit of any intrusion. His praying also awoke any intrusion. His praying also awoke in their memory the prayer life of John the Baptiser. There is deep psychology here. Observation, memory, perception, concept, all in their logical order. The power of example this is perception, concept, all in their logical order. The power of example, this is the first and the greatest method. of teaching, and it is more than a hundredfold the most effectual. It is that the water draining from the surface which will awaken and hold attention.

It is that which will arouse a keen desire for knowledge. It is that which proves the power of your profession. No teacher can really teach more than he has experienced. When will churches awaken to the grave responsibility of carefully scrutinizing the churches awaken to the grave responsibility of carefully scrutinizing the

Most Wonderful Prayer.

II. Teaching by formula (vv. 2-4). The human mind is weak and needs that assistance which is to be found in a clear statement of truth. Not always can we have the benefit of a strong personality. Hence Jesus gives us a formula, or prayer, often called the "Lord's Prayer," but more correctly termed "the disciples' prayer." This is in some respects the world's most is in some respects the world's most wonderful prayer, certainly the most familiar. Lacking in personal pronouns, it begins with that matchless conception of God, "our Father," it descends step by step from a consideration of his hallowed name, his kingdom, and his will (Luke 22:42) in heaven and upon earth down to the heaven and upon earth, down to the question of our need of daily food. It then sweeps backward through the re-lations of mankind to each other, to temptation, to the power of sin, back (Matt. 6:13) to God once more, back to the Alpha and Omega. In it is invocation, supplication and adoration. It sweeps the whole gamut of man's need, physical, mental and spiritual. It begins in heaven, it encircles the earth, it rebounds to those realms of glory from which the Son came, and to which he returned. A study of the prayers of the saints, living and dead, ought to be more emphasized. This kingdom here mentioned is yet to be fully established. A kingdom demands a king (Rev. 22:20); its beginning, though, is in the hearts of men; it implies entire submission to God's will (Luke 22:42); it delights in doing that will (John 6:38, Eph. 6:6); it dethat will (John 6:38, Eph. 6:6); it demands an entire sanctification of our lives, and a desire that his will shall rule in the earth (1 Thess., 4:3). The fifth petition is not the prayer of the unsaved sinner (John 9:31). Fellowship with God depends upon our willingness to forgive others (Matt. 6:14, 15; Mark 11:25); but that is not the ground of God's forgiveness (Eph. 1:7. and of God's forgiveness (Eph. 1:7; 4:32). God does not tempt men (Jas. 1:13); he does permit temptation to assail us, such as modern economic conditions (Mark 1:12, 13), but God never allows us to be tempted above what we can bear (1 Cor. 10:13). Volumes have been written about this prayer and yet its fulness has not even really prays cannot be a failure, for he has the power of God belind his labor. He must however not limit to the desired by drough feed and water. To stamp out the disease. He must, however, not limit himself to his prayer only (Phil. 4:6; Jas. 5:13, 14). The Christian's prayer must be in the name of Christ, which is not named here, for he was not yet cruci-

III. Teaching by parable (vv. 6-10) "A parable is an earthly story with a heavenly meaning." Only the teacher who can translate truth into terms of "it is like" has really begun to teach. Let us beware, however, of a wrong comparison and of to vivid details. This is not a picture of God, only by way of contrast is he suggested. There are three friends here: (1) The needy one in his journey; (2) the needy one who was host, and (3) the needy one who was a selfish neighbor. The pau-perism of the second was inexcusable (Phil, 4:19); the wandering of the first at night time cannot go unchallenged (Matt. 28:20). As for the third, it was a most unseasonable hour and his friend's insistence was unreasonable, yet, his insistence emphasized sonable, yet, his insistence emphasized the urgency of the request and the confidence of a friend.

IV. Teaching by contrast (vv. 11-18). Pedagogically considered this is the application. Notice it is introduced by the word "for" and the summary is the sum and substance of all good, the Holy Spirit. Jesus contrasts bread, that which preserves life, with a stone, which is dead and lifeless. He conwhich is dead and lifeless. He contrasts fish, one of the most common meat foods, with a serpent, which sig-nifies deception, and an egg, which is not only nutritious but reproductive as well, with a scorpion, which has in it the sting of death. Each promise is predicted upon a command (Jas. 4:2); ask, seek, knock.

PRACTICAL TALK ON POULTRY

Much Advice Given by Theoretical Writers Not Worthy of Consideration on Average Farm.

The advice commonly given in poultry papers would require one to exercise nearly as much pains in the cleaning of a chicken house as in the cleaning of a kitchen. Such advice may be suitable for the city poultry fanciers, but some of it is out of place when given to the farmer. Poultry raising, the same as any other farm

The prevention of the second class of ailments comes under the general head of "Feeding." A chicken, whether young or old, to thrive well, must have exercise, clean water, grit, a variety of grain food, green or succulent food, and casein or meat foods. The food requirements of a laying hen are very like those required by a growing chicken. Yarded or shut-in hens should be supplied with more lime than the food contains, however, to provide for the egg shell. Crushed oyster shell is much used for this purpose.

The third class of ailments belongs to the group of contagious diseases. These contagious diseases may be grouped into the general classes: First, those highly contagious; second, those contracted by fowls that are in a weakened condition. Chicken cholera is representative of the first kill and burn all sick chickens, and disinfect the premises frequently and thoroughly with a spray made of onehalf gallon carbolic acid, one-half gallon of phenol and 20 gallons of water. Corrosive sublimate one part in 2,000 parts of water should be used in the drinking water.

Salt for the Chickens

Salt, in aiding digestion, also keeps the whole system of the fowls in good working order. The blood is kept from impurities and the birds will be less likely to suffer from colds, canker or roup; also the gizzard worms find it impossible to live in salt-fed food. Salt can be fed in the scalded oats. A teaspoonful to each eight or ten quarts of oats is sprinkled over the top of the oats and then boiling water poured over them, being careful not to use more water than the oats will readily absorb. "One-man" Government For the Zone, Advocated By the Builder Of the Waterway, Is Adopted By the President.

Washington.-Organization of a permanent government for the Panama Canal Zone to supersede the Isthmian Canal Commission on April 1, was authorized by President Wilson, with the announcement that the nomination of Col. Colonel Goethals' idea of a "one-man" government is carried out in the executive order, which was made public by Secretary Garrison immediately

HOW TO TREAT PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

For pimples and blackheads the following is a most effective and eco-nomical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irri-tation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, yellow, oily, mothy and other unwholesome condi tions of the skin.

Trade Commission Instead of Corpora tion Bureau Would Report Violations of the Statutes-Rigid

Washington, Jan. 23.—Embodying the program laid down by the presi-dent in his recent message, the administration's trust bills were present ed to congress.

The bills have received the approval of Mr. Wilson and the Democratic leaders of both houses of congress. With little modification they will be

Unlawful monopoly is defined as any combination or agreement between corporations, firms, or persons designed for the following purposes:

1. To create or carry out results in the day of the souling as strictions in trade or to acquire a onopoly in any interstate trade, ousiness, or commerce.

2. To limit or reduce the pro duction or increase the price of merchandise or of any commodity.

3. To prevent competition in manufacturing, making, transporting, selling, or purchasing of mer-

It is specifically declared that the law is not intended to prevent discrimination in price between purchasers of commodities "on account of difference in the grade, quality, or quantity of the commodity sold, or that makes only due allowance for difference in the cost of transportation."

Further, it is prescribed that nothing contained in the act shall prevent persons from selecting their own cus-tomers, "but this provision shall not authorize the owner or operator of any mine engaged in selling its product in interstate or foreign commerce to refuse arbitrarily to sell the same to a responsible person, firm, or cor-poration, who applies to purchase."

An attempt at monopoly also is declared to exist for any person to make a sale of goods, wares, or merchandise or fix a price charged therefor, or dis-count from or rebate upon such price, on the condition or understanding that the purchaser thereof shall not deal in the goods, wares, or merchan-dise of a competitor or competitors of

The trade commission bill provides for commission of five members, with the commissioner of corporations as chairman, and transfers all the exist ing powers of the bureau of corporations to the commission.

The principal and most important duty the commission besides conducting investigations will be to aid the courts when requested in the formation of decrees of dissolution.

With this in view, the bill empowers he court to refer any part of pending litigation to the commission, including the proposed decree, for infor-mation and advice.

Much Criticism for Bills.

The trust bills as framed will be the subject of sharp criticism on the part of progressives of all parties who claim they do not go far enough. It will be declared that the definition of nonopoly remains inadequate that the prohibition of unfair trade practice does not cover this evil in our econ-omic life that interlocking stock control is not covered and that the powers of the proposed trade commis

In connection with the trade commission President Wilson declared in his message that the country "demands such a commission only as an indispensable instrument of informa-tion and publicity as a clearing house for the facts by which both the public mind and the managers of great business undertakings should be guided." The bill prescribes that the commission acts are to constitute a "public record" but the body is authorized to make public the information "in such form and to such extent as may be necessary" or "by direction of the attorney general."

did not care much whether I lived or "One day a friend asked me why I didn't try Grape-Nuts food, stop drink-ing coffee and use Postum. I had lost faith in everything, but to please my friend I began to use both and soon became very fond of them. "It wasn't long before I got some strength, felt a decided change in my system, hope sprang up in my heart and slowly but surely I got better. I could sleep very well, the constant craving for food ceased and I have better health now than before the attack of peritonitis.

"My husband and I are still using Grape-Nuts and Postum."

It Takes the King.
"Now, children," said the school eacher, "can any of you tell me of a greater power than a king?"
"Yes, ma'am," cried a little boy, eagerly.

"Very well, you may tell the class," replied the teacher.

"An ace," was the unexpected reply.
